Overview

How much does a solar panel cost in the UK?

Average solar panel costs in the UK can range from £7,000 to £10,000, including supply and installation in your home. Various factors can influence how much you spend, but it's a worthwhile investment that can offer significant savings on energy bills and allow you to recover your initial upfront cost.

Why are solar panels so expensive?

Solar panel prices are rising due to inflation and increased demand, making early investment more cost-effective. Government grants and incentives, such as the Smart Export Guarantee (SEG), can help offset costs and improve long-term savings. How Much Do Solar Panels Cost in the UK?

What are the cheapest solar panels in the UK?

Polycrystalline panels are more affordable and cost around £0.90 per watt. They can still achieve a good power output and are the most installed panels in the UK. Thin-film panels are the cheapest option, but you should be wary of them since they feature the lowest efficiencies.

How much does it cost to install solar panels?

Installing solar panels is usually a two-person job, and you can expect labour costs to range from £600 to £1,000 per day. Your location can influence the rates you get. Costs can also increase if the installation is complex, requiring more work, time, or specialist hardware. Additional components that impact the cost include:.

How much does a kilowatt solar panel cost?

Adjusted for inflation, in 2014, fitting a kilowatt of solar capacity for a 4-10kw array cost £1,586, dropping to £1,295 in 2019. But since then it rose again and last year it cost £1,694. This isn't all bad news, however, as panel capacities are increasing.

How do I pay for solar panels?

The best way to pay for solar panels is from savings. Financing costs are likely to greatly extend the time it takes to pay off your investment. Most installers offer financing but at uncompetitive rates. If you must borrow, choose a high street lender. It will involve more paperwork, but on average it will halve the interest rate you pay.
