From government subsidies to tax breaks, this guide sheds light on the opportunities awaiting households and businesses in Norway. What is Enova?

Enova is a Norwegian government enterprise dedicated to promoting environmentally friendly production and consumption of energy. Their mission is to.

In January 2015, the Norwegian energy agency ENOVA improved the national subsidy scheme that grants energy efficiency technologies as well as renewable energies in the residential sector since 2008. Since 2015 the applicant has a legal right for the funding“ if the household fulfills all eligible.

Norway's clean energy agency Enova will increase the maximum PV system size eligible for rebates from 15 to 20 kW and the maximum subsidy amount from 1,250 to 2,000 NOK ($226.7) per kW installed. In addition, new subsidies of up to 10,000 NOK will be introduced for energy management systems that.

Access to renewable energy is a vital step in eradicating poverty, reducing inequality and stopping climate change. Through the new state guarantee scheme, Norway will help to mobilise both private and public sector capital for investments in renewable energy in developing countries by reducing.

Tax incentives are financial benefits provided by governments to stimulate economic activity and attract investment. These incentives are designed to enhance the overall investment climate, particularly for foreign investors, by reducing their overall tax burden or providing opportunities for more.

The Norwegian Government has established a new state guarantee scheme for renewable energy projects in developing countries, and on 15 November Norad will issue a call for proposals for the first renewable energy guarantees. The Government's guarantee scheme has an overall financial framework of.
