This decrease is attributed to targeted government policies, including subsidies for petroleum products, electricity, water, and basic commodities. These allocations align with Oman's broader economic strategy to manage inflation while fostering growth.

This decrease is attributed to targeted government policies, including subsidies for petroleum products, electricity, water, and basic commodities. These allocations align with Oman's broader economic strategy to manage inflation while fostering growth.

MUSCAT: The Sultanate of Oman's General Budget for 2025 has allocated RO 1.580 billion to various subsidy programs as part of its ongoing efforts to curb inflation and support key sectors. The allocations include RO 577 million for the Social Protection Scheme, RO 520 million for the electricity.

Oman's 2025 General Budget has been designed to strengthen the country's economic and social development, aligning with Oman Vision 2040. More than RO 1.5 billion (approximately $3.9 billion) has been allocated to subsidy programs targeting critical sectors, including energy, transportation, water.

MUSCAT: The 2025 General Budget is set to play a pivotal role in Oman's economic and social development journey, with the government allocating significant resources to support critical sectors that directly impact the well-being of citizens. This comes as part of efforts to address economic and.

Modest cuts have been announced in subsidy allocations across a range of utilities and essential services in the 2024 State Budget of the Sultanate of Oman. This is in line with the government's commitment to gradually rolling back subsidies – part of its longstanding bid to reduce the budget.

Inflation in Oman stood at 0.6 per cent as of November 2024, a decrease from 1.1 per cent during the same period in 2023. Dubai: The Sultanate of Oman has allocated RO 1.580 billion ($4.1 billion) in its 2025 state budget to subsidies aimed at curbing inflation and supporting essential services, as.

A strident effort by the Omani government to roll back subsidies as part of a wider bid to help reduce the country's annual budget deficit is beginning to pay off. On Saturday, the Ministry of Finance revealed that allocations towards subsidies against electricity, water, transport fuels and other.
