Then you need a bunch of resources to fix it, which include the solar panel fragments you salvage from rusted panels undersea. I can't remember if that recipe is in the character's crafting or a recipe in a specific work bench. Btw, it's the same for wind turbines I guess. There's a damaged wind.

I have acquired wind mill blades and solar panels at the trader they say if I can repair them I can use them. Problem is I have no idea how to repair them, I have all the work benches but I haven't found where you might repair said items at them. What is it I need to fix them, it would be nice if I.

You have to salvage broken solar panels and windmills in the world to get the parts you need to build your own. Once you salvage the first one, the blueprint for it will appear automatically in your "available to build" list. Solar panels need "obsolete solar panels" (the salvaged parts) and quartz.
