Overview

Will port infrastructure charges increase in 2022 to 2026?

Proposed port infrastructure charges, 2022 to 2026 Against a background of low levels of price increases in each of the five year periods from 2012 to 2016 and from 2017 to 2021, DPC is proposing increases in port infrastructure charges as shown in Table 17.

How long does a container lands in Dublin Port?

Container lands over the five years from 2022 to 2026 and beyond. Dublin Port's three container terminals account for 48% of all unitised cargoes as shown in Table 22. DPC's dwell time charges on the DSG terminals cover 25% of all unitised movements through Dublin Port. Subject to DPC agreeing suitable arrangements with DFT and MTL, 48% of Dublin Port's container lands are handled by DFT and MTL.

Will DPC increase charges for empty units in 2022 to 2026?

DPC will increase the level of charges for empty units in equal tranches over the five years from 2022 to 2026 so as to bring them to the same level as laden units. There will be an annual increase of 2.5% on the level of goods dues for unitised goods each year from 2022 to 2026.

Do Empty containers and railers need the same port infrastructure investment?

Empty containers and railers are currently at a level of 26% of the rate for laden units. However, empty and laden containers and railers require the same port infrastructure investment. DPC will increase the level of charges for empty units in equal tranches in each of 2022 and 2023.

How will Dublin Port price increases affect supply chain operators?

Dublin Port is located 160 kilometres and 260 kilometres distant from Dublin. Dublin Port's geographical location means that the proposed price increases will not make it more attractive to move goods through other ports such as Rosslare, Waterford and Cork. That being the case, supply chain operators might be able to pass the increased costs through to their.

Will Ferry charges increase in 2022 & 2026?

Charges for ferry passengers and tourist vehicles will increase by no more than 2.5% in each year from 2022 to 2026. No price increases are planned for cruise passengers over the five years from 2022 to 2026. DPC has now published the schedule of Goods Dues which will take effect from 1st April 2022.
