Why should you buy a solar-powered home?

How exciting! Owning a solar-powered home can help you save on your energy bills, reduce greenhouse gas emissions, and be more energy independent. And thanks in part to investments from the Solar Energy Technologies Office, the cost of solar energy is coming down every year.

Why should I get solar panels for my home?

There are a handful of reasons to get solar panels for your home, but the biggest one is energy cost savings. Home solar is simply much cheaper than paying for grid electricity, and can lead to tens – sometimes hundreds – of thousands in savings over the warranty period of the panels.

Can solar panels power a home?

Solar panels are used to power everything from calculators to sports stadiums to satellites — and they can just as easily be used to power a home. You don't need to be a rocket scientist – or anything close to it – to get solar panels for your home.

How do I choose the best way to use solar electricity?

Before deciding on the best way to use solar electricity at home, assess the potential solar energy that can be produced at your address. Because PV technologies use both direct and scattered sunlight to create electricity, the solar resource across the United States is ample for home solar electric systems.

Will solar panels power my home at night?

But snow can be easily cleaned off or will melt quickly. Will my solar panels power my home at night?

No, your solar panels won't power your home at night. However, most home solar panel systems are sized to generate enough electricity during the day to cover the costs of nighttime energy usage under net metering.

Do home solar panels save money?

Home solar installations include more equipment than just solar panels. You don't need to live somewhere warm or with abundant sunshine to save with solar. Most homeowners will save tens of thousands of dollars by going solar. Solar panels come with great incentives—but the best federal program expires on January 1, 2026.
