

Solar panels for my home oracle financing

Overview

How do I finance a solar system?

Multiple solar financing options exist: You can pay for solar panels upfront, get a loan, lease a system, enter a power purchase agreement (PPA), or even install a system yourself.

Should you buy a solar system or pay off a mortgage?

When deciding how to pay for solar panels, you have two main options: buying the system outright or financing it. With a cash purchase, you buy your system for its full cost upfront and have no payments moving forward. Alternatively, a solar loan requires fixed monthly payments over a term of five to 25 years, similar to financing a car or paying off a mortgage.

Should I pay for my solar panel system upfront?

By selecting the right financing strategy, you can save thousands of dollars on your solar panel system and start generating clean energy immediately. Paying for your solar panel system upfront with cash is generally the most financially advantageous option in the long run.

Can you pay for solar panels with a personal loan?

Personal loans and home equity financing are two ways to pay for solar panels. This service is free and will not affect your credit score. SoFi offers online personal loans with consumer-friendly features for good- and excellent-credit borrowers. Read our review of SoFi Personal Loan.

Should you buy or finance a solar system?

The answer varies on a case-by-case basis. For those who can swing the total cost of the solar energy system, financing adds interest costs, so it's more expensive than buying the system outright with cash. However, when compared to leasing solar panels, financing is typically the better option.

Are there affordable solar financing options?

Despite rising interest rates, there are still plenty of affordable solar financing options. Over 2.5 million homeowners in the U.S. have installed solar systems, making it a smart investment that increases your home's value and saves you money on electricity costs.
